The team with higher rally point ratio in the matches between all teams in the pool is ranked higher.

If a tie still exists, then the tie is determined by the tournament seeding established after the Main Draw Preliminary Inquiry (the highest seed of the tied teams is the top ranked team).

b. Between three teams:

Teams are ranked (1, 2 & 3) by the rally points ratios in the matches between the three tied teams.

If a tie still exists (1, 1 & 1 or 1, 1 & 3 or 1, 2 & 2) then the teams still tied are ranked by the rally points ratio between all teams in the pool. If a tie still exists then the teams still tied are determined by the tournament seeding established after the Main Draw Preliminary Inquiry (the highest seed of the tied teams is the top ranked team).

4. ALLOCATION OF TEAMS

 Article 13.5.

ranked team according to the current CEV Entry Ranking on place eight (8) in order to help the promotion of the CEV competition.

If that occurs the teams will have their seed increased (i.e. from Seed #15 to Seed #16) until they are in a different pool than already seeded Host Country team. 32. SECURITY

Art. 71.

- ✓ The people managing the different areas must be familiar with the different accreditation categories and the numbering system of the stands in the stadium. A walkie-talkie system must be used to intervene in case of contingency.
- ✓ Finally, the necessary security measures must also be studied and arranged in due time to keep spectators outside the playing area at the end of the final match as well as during the Awarding Ceremony.

33. INFORMATION

33.1 General provisions

The appointments of CEV Officials and referees are communicated to the Organiser and published in the CEV competition's Practical Info on the CEV website.

General information concerning the CEV competition are dispatched using the Official Communications by circular email to all National Federations and published on the CEV website.

33.2 Daily bulletin

- ✓ Daily Bulletins contain information about the competition brackets, match schedules of the next day, latest match results, final rankings and other useful information.

34. ASSIGNEMENT OF COURTS

Two methods can be used to determine on which courts matches will be played:

- pre-assigning courts
- playing on the next available courts, following the sequence of matches

It is the Technical Supervisor’s responsibility to apply one or the other system or a combination of the two methods. Pre-assigning courts is recommended for the Main Draw and is optional for the Qualification Tournament.

Pre-determining the court assignments for several matches prior to the start of any given match has the following advantages compared to the «next available» method:

Compelling matches (i.e. host country versus foreign country) can be scheduled on the main court in advance which dramatically increases the positive atmosphere within the stadium as fans have a vested interest in the outcome.

Match assignments can be published far in advance of the start of the match, which allows spectators and media to easily follow their favourite teams and helps the overall promotion of the tournament.

Athletes only have to watch one court (versus watching all courts) to gauge their warm-up activities. For example, a team may know its next game is the second game up on court 2 after this current match; at this point athletes do not need to pay attention to scores on courts 1, 3, or 4.

Athletes can prepare for the court conditions that will exist during the match. Wind conditions usually vary greatly between the main court and the outside courts; a better preparation of athletes will lead to better matches. Since all athletes know their court assignments, they do not need to attempt to listen to the announcer for the court assignments. Often, athletes cannot hear the announcements from the warm-up court.. The preparation of score-sheets, refereeing assignments, and scoreboard teams/flags is facilitated because the matches are known far in advance.

Since match times can vary greatly (i.e.: there are usually «fast» courts and «slow» courts), the Technical Supervisor and Competition Director must always pay attention to the flow of the tournament and make the new assignments accordingly. Sometimes, an outside court (court 2, 3, or 4) may have to sit empty while teams are resting before their next match. But it is important that the main court is never empty and that the last match of the day is played on the main court. The court assignments (to be always presented on a draw sheet so that the future matches can be easily determined) should always be posted in the athletes’ area and referees’ lounge during the Qualification Tournament. In addition, during the Main Draw competition, court assignments must also be posted on the Main Draw boards at the spectators’ entrance and in the press area.

Notes:

A billboard including this information should be built by the Promoter of each event on site to be constantly updated, in addition to the Main Draw (double elimination, pool play, etc.) bracket for 32/24/16 teams, as per the following example:

Round	Start Time	Court 1	Court 2	Court 3	Court 4
1	09:00 VS VS VS VS
2	10:00 VS VS VS VS
3	11:00 VS VS VS VS
4	12:00 VS VS VS VS
5	13:00 VS VS VS VS
6	14:00 VS VS VS VS
7	15:00 VS VS VS VS
8	16:00 VS VS VS VS

9	17:00 VS VS VS VS
10	18:00 VS VS VS VS
11	19:00 VS VS VS VS
12	20:00 VS VS VS VS

The Technical Supervisor and the Competition Director in consultation with the Tournament Director (Promoter) should re-assign the matches (Court assignments and match starts) at the end of the Main Draw Technical Meeting. The matches should be pre-assigned to place compelling matches on the Main Court (i.e. host country vs. foreign country team).

The court assignments and match start times should be published in the Daily Bulletin that is circulated to the athletes. Matches will not start before the published times (This will assist in the promotion of the match and the preparation for the athletes) but may start later if earlier matches are running late.

35. METHOD FOR PRE-ASSIGNING COURTS

Pre-assignment of the first round of matches (or the first two rounds if the first round is very short).

Calculation of the number of main court matches in the first round (or first and second rounds). This equals the total number of first (or first and second) round matches divided by the number of competition courts. This number can be rounded up to the next match (19 games/4 courts = 4.75 matches = 5 matches).

Assignment of the main court matches (court 1) with a preference given to matches where the host country plays against a foreign country (host country vs host country competitions are often boring for the crowd). Often the Competition Director will direct the CEV Technical Supervisor to the most compelling matches (these are usually obvious).

Assignment of the secondary court matches in match order and in repeating groups. That is, assignment of courts 2, 3, and 4 to the first three available matches (those that are not on court 1), and then assignment of courts 2, 3, and 4 to the next three available matches and so on until the entire first (or first and second) round is complete. This way each team will know the location and approximate start time of its first match.

As the early first round matches finish, the assignment of the second (or third) round of winners bracket matches may begin. The same rules as above apply when assigning the second (or third) round. For example, if there are 8 second round matches on four courts then there can only be 2 main court matches. Again, the most compelling matches for the main court (host country versus foreign country) must be chosen and filled in the other matches as above.

Once the second (or third) round has been assigned, it is now possible to begin assigning the first round of losers matches. These assignments must be made very carefully.

First, the compelling first round losers' games must be assigned to the main court as above.

For the other court assignments some observations are necessary. Sometimes, matches on one court proceed much faster than the matches on the other courts. This can be corrected by simply scheduling two consecutive matches on that court. Conversely, one less match must be scheduled on any court that is playing slowly.

The most difficult part of the draw is the early second round losers' matches as the loser at the bottom of the second round winners' bracket (matches #21, #22, #23, and #24 in the Main Draw) will cross over to the top of the losers' bracket. In order to give the loser of the second round winners games (matches #21, #22, #23, #24 in the Main Draw) the proper rest, whenever possible their cross over match should be on the same court on which they just lost. This court should also be the court of the first round losers' game that leads to their second round losers' game. For example, if match #24 in the Main Draw is on court 4 then matches #25, and #33 should also be on court 4. Match #23 should be on the same court as matches #26 and #34. Match #22 should be on the same court as matches #27 and #35 etc. However, due to main court assignments this procedure may sometimes be impossible. Whenever possible an additional game should be scheduled on a court between the above matches (i.e. between Main Draw matches #25 and #33, or between Main Draw matches #26 and #34). These games should be assigned to the bottom of the first round of the losers' bracket. However, sometimes due to main court assignments no additional match can be inserted between these matches. In this case an outside court will have to sit empty.

Notes:

Sometimes an outside court must sit empty due to the slowness of another court and this is unfortunately unavoidable. Each team must have at least 45 minutes rest between.

The second round of losers' matches must be pre-assigned to choose the most compelling matches for the main court (as above). Two matches must be kept unassigned at the end of the day until closer to the end of the day. This will allow for more flexibility in ending the last match on the main court.
